A VICTIM OF THE REBELLION.—The Nashville Union relates the following incident:

A poor, but quite decent and respectable Irish woman, came from Battle Creek on the cars the other day, to Nashville. She lived until lately at Troy City. Her husband, an honest and hard working Irishman, was a Union man, and the guerrillas tried to drag him into the rebel army. He managed to elude them, and fled to our camp at Battle Creek, where he enlisted in the Union army. The rebels went back to the cabin where his poor wife was with her two little children and began committing the greatest outrages, battering down the doors, breaking in the windows and tearing up her garden, nor did they desist until they made a wreck of what had been a plain but decent home. Such was the protection which the Southern Confederacy gave to these inoffensive people, who had harmed no one and walked blamelessly in society. The mother gathered up her children and set out to join her husband, determined to share the hardships of the camp, under the flag of her adopted country—the flag under which Corcoran fought and Meagher defended—rather than endure the brutality of Jeff. Davis' minions. When she arrived at the camp she was provided with a conveyance to Nashville.

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon, and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys; and its facilities for obtaining news from these localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to these points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

☞ The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug5:4mdw

Editorial Correspondence

SALEM, Sept [illegible] 186[illegible]

We have just returned from the Fair grounds. Sixty acres of ground [illegible] enclosed with a high [illegible]. One grand hall [illegible] fifty feet wide and eighty feet long, and sixt[illegible] feet high. It is well lighted by large glass windows, has a good shingle roof, and is altogether a fine building. [illegible] ground [illegible] a riding and driving track [illegible] length and there are numerous stalls and pens for horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. The grounds are about a mile from town and when improved as they are designed to be will present Fair grounds of which any State might be proud. The camping grounds will be on the Fair grounds, there being ample room for the purpose.

Some horses have already reached the grounds. The impression is that there will be a very large attendance of people and a good exhibition. We are told that arrangements have been made by the citizens of Salem to accommodate the host of strangers who will be in this city the coming week.

We find that the excitement of the Senatorial election has passed away, and the Union men here are satisfied that the Republic will be safe so far as its affairs are confided to Harding's hands. We are sure that Harding is a Union man all over—no one doubts this—and that he will faithfully adhere to the resolutions which have been adopted by the two houses of the Legislature on public affairs.

The project of a law to require persons who draw money from the State Treasury to take an oath of fealty to the Government, gives great trouble to some secesh. They want money from the Treasury, but they don't want to swear that they will stand by the Government. An honest Union man would take the oath readily and pleasantly. We don't want traitors to take money from the Treasury.

The weather is good—rather cool. A good shower would be a capital thing just now.

Knights of the Golden Circle About

Recently there was a secesh convention held in Indiana called democratic by such men as Voorhees, Vallandigham and Richardson and these gentlemen made their characteristic speeches on the occasion. Some days after the Grand Jury of the U. S. District Court of that State, at a term of that Court in Indianapolis, indicted some twenty individuals, several of them uproarious members of that convention, of conspiracy against the Government—being members of the association known as Knights of the Golden Circle. In their report to the Court the Grand Jury stated that they had obtained undoubted evidence of the existence of lodges in different parts of the State, and that some of the members who had withdrawn from them stated that it was understood that the Order in Indiana embraced fifteen thousand persons. The exposure excited great indignation in Indiana, and it is scarcely believed that the Knights with all the assistance they would be able to get from Vallandigham & Co will secure a respectable opposition to the Union party in Indiana—and possibly they may not be able to save some of the prominent traitors from just punishment. We would not be surprised if a branch of the traitorous Order should be found in Yamhill county. We know of several men there who are not too good to bind themselves by the oaths of the Order. We [illegible] communication on the subject.

LAFAYETTE, Sept 18, 1862

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In times like these, it behooves every loyal man to look after and see who are and who are not the friends of the Government. It is well known in Lafayette, and most probably in all parts of the State, that there are [illegible] organizations waiting only for an opportunity to raise and raid against law and order. That there is such an organization in Lafayette there is but little room to doubt, and that the chief among them is well known, [illegible] particularly for his greatness [illegible] but more particularly for his disloyalty, weakness and imbecility—whose whole aim, whole subject, whole theory is for the overthrow of the Government, and whose whole practice would be if he had the power to make Union men's [illegible] to hang Lincoln and Seward and sink our whole army to the deepest depths of perdition. We have just such a man as that among us, besides several others who lean that way so strong that there is not a [illegible] their pulse on [illegible] and times.

The [illegible] they have smoked at the feast of rebellion [illegible] with treason, and [illegible] their rebellious [illegible] recently sent [illegible] and promptly [illegible] opinion [illegible] arm of treason [illegible] a humiliating existence [illegible] shameful [illegible].

THE [illegible] FROM YREKA. The [illegible] publishes a note from C. A. Thomas, telegraph operator at Yreka, dated Sept. [illegible]th, which says:

[illegible] Lincoln has issued a proclamation to the seceding States. All States that do not return into the Union by January 1st 18[illegible] will have their slaves emancipated.

CENTRAL STATES STRATEGY. The New York [illegible] Sigel's [illegible] says:

It [illegible] Sigel recently captured [illegible] the enemy [illegible] Happahannock by the exhibition of his skill [illegible] and was [illegible] placed [illegible] intrusted [illegible] the opportunity [illegible] [illegible] private letters [illegible] the battle [illegible] what similar [illegible] and with [illegible] Sigel's [illegible] little [illegible] somewhat [illegible] he had [illegible] thinks [illegible] everything [illegible] a few [illegible] and after workmen [illegible]

[illegible] guessed [illegible] Sigel [illegible] [illegible] up to which the [illegible] When the screaming rebels got within less than a hundred yards of Sigel's guns his cannoneers were ordered to use grape and canister and fire as quickly and as rapidly as possible. [illegible] to meet the infantry [illegible] the result is [illegible] the rebels [illegible] at such close distance [illegible] then broke [illegible] a drum [illegible] regiment which was sent to charge upon the flying rebels writes in a letter [illegible] They lay there like grass [illegible] by a scythe [illegible] swaths."

NO PARTY MAN NOW. [illegible] in his New York speech said:

It might be well to understand what my views are. I wish to see this war carried on the broad platform of the Constitution for the restoration of the Union and the Constitution. But as I said in other times I am in favor of the President of the United States being invested with the full strength and ample authority [illegible] with proper discretion and if it would be necessary to take a small part of the Constitution, I would not begin the war among ourselves about it until we get the war settled. Then I say we will put the [illegible] again or make a new one."

POOR JEFF. The Richmond Examiner denounces Jeff Davis in a scorching manner as a failure, and says:

It will be for Congress to repair as best it can the mischief done the public service by a weak and impracticable Executive, [illegible] to the reduction [illegible] the field, the decay of military discipline, the demoralization of our armies and the jeopardy in which our cause has been put by a long course of trifling conduct, childish pride, [illegible] unworthy obstinacy, official obtuseness, conceit, defiance of public opinion, imperiousness and despotic affectation on the part of those entrusted with the execution of the war.

The Rebel War Department is wroth at Hunter and Phelps for organizing and arming slaves against their rebel masters, and has issued an order that they shall be no longer held as public enemies of the Confederate States, but as outlaws; and that in the event of the capture of either of them, or that of any other commissioned officers employed in drilling, organizing or instructing slaves with a view to their armed service in this war, he shall not be regarded as a prisoner of war, but held in close confinement for execution as a felon, at such time and place as Jeff Davis may direct. Hunter and Phelps will probably take care not to be captured.

STABBED.—From the Inquirer we learn that Chas. Hall and a boy named George Lewis got into a difficulty about some watermelons on the Fair Grounds at Boston, Linn county, on the 22d, in which Hall slapped young Lewis' mouth. Lewis, in return, stabbed Hall in the pit of the stomach with a pocket knife. Some think the wound is dangerous. No arrest has been made.

An important military order has been issued in New Orleans, by which all the inhabitants of that city have been deprived of their private arms, for the reason that at the battle of Baton Rouge it was discovered that numbers of the inhabitants of the latter city had been found among the slain on the battle field. They had joined the rebel ranks.

A new business has sprung up in New York—it is the business of insuring against a draft, the price charged being $100. In case the insured is drafted, the insurer provides a substitute.

General Stanley was industriously engaged in [illegible] a State Government for Louisiana at last accounts, assimilating it as [illegible] civil forms [illegible] satisfaction.

Parson Brownlow writes August 7th that but a short time before 8,000 Tennessee Unionists and [illegible] North Carolinians made their way to Cumberland Gap and entered the Union service under Morgan.

LADD, WEBSTER & CO'S
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

AND

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order, should make a close lock stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk direct from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion. This is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general supervision of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and roots. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, then you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea two times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

From the Oregon Farmer

English Farming.

There is no country in the world where farming is reduced to a system more than in England The very dense population and the large amount of land included in the parks and pleasure grounds of the gentry, forces the necessity of exacting from the comparatively small amount of soil devoted entirely to agriculture, the very greatest yields possible. Hence it is that English farms are the most productive, of their size, of any farms in the world Never flagging labor, ever cautious thrift, and the strictest economy combined with untiring perseverance to secure the greatest yields from the least amount of land There every inch of a cultivated field is used The land is highly manured, the soil is broken to a great depth, and by these means the most astonishing yields can be produced The English farmers, as a general thing, have no room for pasturage They must be economical, and as the same amount of land will sustain a greater number of stock by tilling it, and with green crops soiling the cattle, this practice is extensively followed.

Root crops are largely raised for the purpose of feeding stock And the farms of England, compared with the generality of farms in this country, would appear much like gardens. In one respect the farmers of England are behind those in this country They have not adopted the many improvements, some of which are highly labor-saving and advantageous But although some of their implements are rude, yet they are all solid, and if with them the work is performed slowly, yet it is all done thoroughly. There is no slighting of work The English characteristic of solidity is nowhere better displayed than in their farming. What though the implements of the farmer are heavy and rude, they are handled in a masterly manner, for there is a vast deal of sinew in the English farmer He may indeed work hard, but he lives well and can well afford to Not that he enjoys dainties for he does not, but he has a plenty of healthful food With his good roast beef and foaming ale for dinner, he is well prepared to do the work before him in a thorough manner. And this is the great secret of success in English farming. Everything is well fed The lands are well fed with richest manures and are thoroughly tilled, the cattle are well fed, and the farmer himself is well fed; and with the full supply of vitality which abundant aliment will give, everything is pushed forward in solid style There is one other characteristic of English farming which cannot be too much admired, and that is the taste that is displayed English scenery is perhaps the most beautiful in the world. Art does not set herself at variance with nature, but aids and assists her; and the rural districts of England presents a varied picture of cottages, hedges, gardens, lawns and woodlands that cannot fail to please the most untutored eye

Ornamental Trees.

In the last issue of the Farmer there appeared an interesting communication upon the above topic. We are glad to see our correspondents taking hold of this subject It cannot be too strongly presented Homes should be made attractive, and there is nothing that more conspires to make them so than the planting of groves of ornamental trees

Although the forests of Oregon present at a general glance a tiresome monotony, yet they contain some of the most beautiful trees to be found in the world. Of coniferous trees, we have the different classes of spruce and fir, the cedar and the yew; and of broad leaved trees, we have the oak, the ash, the alder, and the vine and white maple, all of which are most beautiful shade trees. Of the latter of those mentioned, ex-Governor Stevens, of Washington Territory, in his report of explorations of a rail road route, says "the white maple (Acer Mrcrophyllum)—quite different from any eastern species—is the most beautiful of its family in North America It is frequently eighty feet in height, and attains a diameter of six feet, with smooth, white bark, and pale green leaves from six to twelve inches in breadth Its long racemes of yellow flowers appear with the young leaves in May, giving the tree an elegant appearance.

Baled Hay.

Why is it that farmers who have hay to sell, do not secure a press for the purpose of baling their hay The greater convenience of handling, the little trouble of transporting, baled hay over that which is unbaled would seem to be sufficient inducement for our farmers to secure hay presses And the expense need not be so irksome; one good press would answer the use of two or three farms They could, by clubbing together, secure a good press and not feel the burden at all Then when the market was such as to make it profitable to ship their hay, the Press would come into requisition, and enable them to market their hay with half the trouble and expense that they otherwise would be subjected to Last winter and spring, the hay and straw imported here from California, was all, of course, neatly baled This shows that the California farmers are wide awake, and fully up to the times

We notice that very staunch and durable Presses are being built in this City by Mr Grooms, formerly of Milwaukie No farmer could give a look at them without being tempted to purchase one They are an article of great utility, and we hope soon to see them in general use

Of all diseases, the first great cause,

Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse Nervous Debility Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures Gleet, Gravel Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder Mercurial Rheumatism Scrofula Pains in the Bones and Ankles diseases of the Lungs, Throat Nose and Eyes Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs Cancers Dropsy Epileptic Fits St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling Loss of Memory Loss of Power, General Weakness Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes Loss of Sight Wakefulness Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases Eruptions upon the Face Pains in the Back and Head Female Irregularities and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resists all their means of cure The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption scrofula, and many other diseases and should be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is not always effected —a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula tetter ulcers eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes throat and lungs entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system rapidly wastes away the energies of life causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system disqualifies for marriage society business and all earthly happiness and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR L J CZAPKAY Medical Institute Sacramento street below Montgomery opposite the Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease who having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public The founder of this very impetuously command their publicity and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate—The undersigned desirous of apprising those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of an uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance but alas after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health strength and energy and as a last resort and with but a faint hope called upon Dr Czapkay who after examining my case prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pains and dizziness in my head Encouraged by the result I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by strictly obeying all his directions and advice my mind became clear and my ideas collected the constant pain in my back and groins the weakness of my limbs the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement the misanthropy and evil forebodings the self distrust and want of confidence in others the incapability to study and want of resolution the frightful exciting and at times pleasant dreams at night followed by involuntary discharges have all disappeared; and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr Czapkay and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice being assured by my own experience that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected

[L S] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public,

MARYSVILLE June 3d, 1856

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite I have It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your Institute, with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you could be able to cure me perfectly but with night you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected you may judge how satisfied I am my improvement very far from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers in my throat and the entire stoppage of the emissions which frequently occurring weakened me so much I can hardly tell you which is the greatest my joy or my surprise I was expecting not feeling fully what strength a young man can feel

Enclosed find twenty dollars over your charge and think myself deeply cured If you think anybody will be benefitted you can publish this letter in the newspapers Be ever a grateful your THOMAS HAYDEN

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also About two years ago I suddenly and from any known cause was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it soon became so bad as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although the public beholding this I felt despised the misery of my life and I soon learned to look upon those who will render assistance or shelter me from danger as ones who are but prolonging the existence of my miseries. While in this state and having previous to my affliction tasted the sweets of life I once more was induced to attempt seeking relief from a physician and by recommendation called upon Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for his services regardless of which he willingly undertook my case and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health I call to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present in [illegible] the sense of my indebtedness I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed
